DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 11-16 in the reply filed on 11/04/04 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that "no serious burden on the Examiner exists" and "that the search and examination of the entire application can be made without serious burden". This is not found persuasive because: The Examiner has clearly stated that the search for invention II is not required for invention II, therefore if there is an additional search for the teachings of an unrelated invention then this poses "an undue burden" on the Examiner. Applicant is further reminded that although inventions may appear to be related to their intended use, this does not correspond to what the applicant has identified as the "allege novel and patentable" teachings of the particular claimed invention.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 1-10 and 17-20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 10/27/04.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 13, applicant positively recites a rod with "a plunger" at one end which is unclear and confusing as to whether the applicant is reciting another “plunger” which is different from the plunger as recited in claim 12. Applicant must clarify.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Shaide.

7. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Chi. Chi shows the use of a backrest (23) which moves forwards and backwards relative to a seat cushion. Chi further shows the use of a platform (24) with a plurality of holes therein (which is the mechanical equivalent of a slot) sandwiched between a depressed track (116) and a bracket thereof (111). A button mechanism (12,14) comprising a rod and plunger (12) selectively engages one of the holes in order to move or lock the backrest along the seat. Chi shows all of the teachings of the claimed invention except the use of a slot in a platform but as identified earlier the plurality of holes is a mechanical equivalent of the slot. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify the platform with a slot since applicant has not stated that a slot solves any stated problem and it appears that the plurality of holes as taught by Chi, would perform equally well.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaide in view of Chi. Shaide shows the use of a platform (19) with a plurality of holes therein (which is the mechanical equivalent of a slot) sandwiched between a depressed track (35) and a bracket thereof. Shaide shows all of the teachings of the claimed invention except the use of a button mechanism with a plunger. Chi shows the use of a button mechanism having a rod with a plunger at one end thereof (see above rejection). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the seat of Shaide with the button mechanism, as taught by Chi in order to quickly and selectively secure the backrest along the vehicle seat.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Reference Nos., 4,102,549, and 4,563,038 show features of the claimed invention.
